

The Trendlines Group establishes, develops, and invests in technology-based medical and agricultural companies and projects in accordance with its mission “to improve the human condition” by discovering, incubating, and providing extensive support to its portfolio companies.

We invest principally through Trendlines Medical and Trendlines Agtech, business units of our wholly owned subsidiary Trendlines Incubators Israel, and Trendlines Medical Singapore. Additionally, we operate Trendlines Labs as our own in-house innovation center.

Trendlines Medical teams with passionate innovators, entrepreneurs, and investors to establish innovation-based companies developing medical devices and technologies to improve the human condition.

We seek to improve patient outcomes and reduce health care costs, often in collaboration with multinational corporations.
